

HP University Mobile Technology Solutions Conference Details

October 23-24, 2002
Building 3L, Room: Half Dome

Dear HP Mobile Technology Solutions Recipients:

Thank you so much for participating in the HP University Mobile Technology Solutions Conference. The conference will be held at Hewlett-Packard Laboratories, in Palo Alto California, on October 23 and 24. The purpose of the conference is for you to meet the community of recipients, learn about the mobile technology programs and results at other universities, and to seek opportunities for collaboration. It promises to be highly interactive and informative.

We are asking all schools to make a presentation. Grant schools that have been involved in the program since 2001 will be asked to give a 15 – 20 minute presentation of your program and its results to date. Spring 2002 grant schools will be asked to give a 10 – 15 minute presentation on your program plans. Please allow a few minutes during your presentation for questions.

Send your slides to gregg.peters@hp.com by Thursday, October 17th so they can be loaded onto the presentation system.

Presentation content areas:

Topic area

- Project overview with timeline
- What challenges have you faced in the project?
- How is student learning being transformed/impacted?
- What successes have you experienced?
- How is the classroom changing as a result of your project?
- What best practices or solutions have you created that you are willing to share with the group?
- What are your next steps for mobility on campus?
