NGA/InnoVision is conducting a hiring event in the month of June. If you have students that are interested--even if they aren't graduating for another year or so, please pass along to them. The digital version of the flyer is big, so I won't email it to you (unless you really want it!), but the particulars follow:

"We are currently accepting resumes for our June 2010 invitation only hiring event to be held in Washington, DC. We are seeking entry to mid career level Project Scientists and Scientific and Technical Program Managers (pay bands 2 to 3) interested in joining our highly skilled workforce supporting national security objectives of the United States. Please submit resumes to AON 20101933 and/or 20101935 through www.usajobs.gov or www.nga.mil . U.S. Citizenship Required"

If anyone has questions, please don't hesitate to contact me!
